Your All-In-One
Project Management Solution™

Others just make promises. We keep them. Since our inception in 1998, AP&R has built a reputation on common sense, good value and dependable service. You're treated as if you're our only client. We do what we say. You get what you expect (and more).

One Call. Consider It Done.™

You make the call. We do the rest. From new construction to rollouts, to site visits or code research, American Project & Repair is your all-in-one retail project management solution. Across town, across the nation, or across the border into Canada, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, we help you accomplish more with less effort by providing a single point of contact for all your multi-site project management needs. One source simplifies project management, cost control and accountability – saving you time and money.

We bring experience. You get results. With AP&R you get far more than contractors who can erect a square wall. You get a crew that knows the code for the community in which your project takes place, or they will do the research to prevent any delays. One that responds immediately to your emergencies to help rescue a project in peril. A crew that can improvise and adapt from the office or the job site to provide you with a solution rather than an excuse.

We have the flexibility to simplify your solution. Every project is important to us. From single projects to nationwide rollouts, our knowledgeable staff can take out the complexity. We work with contractors, architects – even your accounting department – and tailor the way we do business to your needs. At each phase, our approach is the same: provide total customer satisfaction on the customer's terms.

American Project & Repair can assist with your ADA compliance.

Single-source responsibility for:

- Construction
- Fixture Installation
- On-Demand Repairs
- Emergency Service 24/7/365

You want your customers to buy what you're selling, savor the experience, and look forward to their next visit. You need to create and maintain an environment that makes them feel safe, comfortable and inspired. AP&R will help you preserve and enhance your retail image, while saving you time, energy and money. Make the call, 1-800-227-0706. Consider the job done.

"We have come to rely upon American Project & Repair because of the things you can do that others haven't done for us in the past. It seems like, no matter what I throw at you, you get it done. And sometimes it's in a real hurry, too. There's a lot of knowledge and caring there and we really appreciate it."

"I really like the fact that Ed and your AP&R team work so closely with our installers. They make sure that the installation methods are down pat before you handle our rollouts. We wind up saving time on site, which makes our customers happier. We wind up saving money, which makes us happier. And it also makes our jobs much easier."
