Your All-In-One
Facilities Management Solution™

One Call. Consider It Done.™

You make the call. We do the rest.

From plumbing to painting, to remodels or rollouts, American Project & Repair is your all-in-one retail maintenance, repair and project management solution. Across town or across the nation, we help you accomplish more with less effort by providing a single point of contact for all your multi-site facilities management needs. One source simplifies project management, cost control and accountability – saving you time and money.

We do the legwork, so you don't have to. AP&R's reliable contractor network and in-house project management team are experienced in the unique needs of the retail chain environment.

We're ready to respond anywhere in the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico.

We survey the job sites, schedule and coordinate the entire project, and handle all the paperwork – from start to finish. And with real-time progress reports, you know exactly what's going on at any given time in any location.

We make your job easier. You take the credit. Consolidated billing and customized project reporting help you manage your profit centers more efficiently and effectively. Consistent in quality, service and support, AP&R is also flexible. We're large enough to provide competitive pricing, yet agile enough to accommodate your specific accounting practices and software. We do what it takes to manage the details and streamline your processes.

Others just make promises. We keep them. Since our inception in 1998, AP&R has built a reputation on common sense, good value and dependable service. You're treated as if you're our only client. We do what we say. You get what you expect (and more).
